

ARMSTRONG LIFETIME PRODUCT GUARANTEE CEILING TILE

LIFETIME

Armstrong warrants that its ceiling tiles (the "Products") as defined below will be free from defects in design, material and workmanship if properly installed and used under normal conditions by the customer or any third party (the "Warranty").

Products covered under this Warranty

Armstrong Dune Max, Dune Supreme and Dune Supreme Unperforated of 99% relative humidity ("RH").

Coverage:

The Warranty will cover any failures of the Products, under normal use, which result from a defect in design, material or workmanship ("Warrantable Failure") subject to the conditions set out in A to E below.

The Warranty coverage for the Products is the lifetime of the building in which the Product is installed commencing on the date of completed installation.

Limitations and Exclusions:

Armstrong will not be responsible for any Warrantable Failures which result from:

- A. Improper storage. Products must be stored in an enclosed, dry and clean environment protected from the outside elements including, but not limited to, rain, snow or other causes of moisture;
- B. Incorrect installation or failure to comply with all applicable Armstrong specifications and published recommendations in relation to the installation or the repair, replacement, adjustment or alteration of the Product;
- C. Abuse or neglect, misapplication, abnormal or improper use or modification of the Products including subjection to the weight of unauthorized loads or use in standing water environments, such as indoor swimming pools, or any outdoor environment;
- D. Exposure to abnormal conditions, including excess humidity (relative to the published performance criteria for the respective components, chemical fumes, vibration, ultra violet light, moisture, temperatures outside the 0°C to + 30°C range or discoloration as a result of aging or the installation environment as described in this paragraph D.
- E. Normal wear and tear.

A claim for a Warrantable Failure ("Claim") must be made in writing or electronically within seven (7) days of the Warrantable Failure occurring. The Claim must contain the description of the Products, the order reference number, full particulars of the defect, the date of purchase and the reasons why the customer holds Armstrong responsible for the repair and/or replacement costs.

If Armstrong accepts responsibility for a Warrantable Failure it will, at its cost and at its option, either repair or replace the Products with the same grade and type of ceiling tile or, if such replacement product is not available, supply an alternative product of its choice which performs materially the same function.

Save as otherwise provided herein, the Warranty is the sole warranty made by Armstrong in relation to the Product and all other representations, conditions, warranties and terms, whether express or implied by law, statute or otherwise as to the quality, merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose are excluded.

The remedy of repair or replacement of the Product is the sole remedy for a Warrantable Failure and Armstrong accepts no liability for any loss of profit, loss of use, loss of production, loss of contracts or for any financial or economic loss or for any indirect or consequential damage whatsoever.
